Land roll gain near $1 million

Almost a one million dollar gain in a year is the story of Hancock County's real and personal property assessments.

Tax Assessor George Heitzmann told the board of supervisors Monday the figure for 1965 is $12,093,444, a net gain of $985,031 over last year. He predicted that the public service assessment and auto tags will send the total over the $20 million mark. The final 1964 figure was $11,076,766.

The biggest gain in the real and personal property rolls came in Beat 1. That is $472,956 more than last year. However, in assessing contractor equipment at Mississippi Test Facility all of that was shown as being located in the Gainesville precinct and some of it actually is in Beat 2. The result is that Beat 2 shows a loss of $19,008.

Construction equipment at MTF is assessed at about $800,000, Heitzmann reported. But since the installation is almost completed, that personal property assessment will fall away next year. Assessments are made on the basis of property on Jan. 1.

Beat 5 continues to provide the largest share of the real estate and personal property assessment—$8,267,983 of the $12 million. It gained $470,915 over last year. Beat 1 runs second at $1,877,506. The Beat 2 total is $386,582. Beat 3 is $427,549, up $12,120, and Beat 4 is $413,818, a gain of $47,948.

Heitzmann listed losses at MTF because of land acquired by the federal government at $217,640. Of this $120,535 was in Beat 1, $56,695 in 2, $250 in 3, $36,010 in 4 and $4,150 in Beat 5.

Supervisors accepted the land rolls and ordered the customary day-to-day sessions until their first August meeting to study the assessments. After that applications for equalization and adjustment will be considered.

The board also adopted a resolution asking Rep. Walter J. Phillips to introduce local and private legislation to retain the assessor's pay at its current level. As the law now stands, Heitzmann will lose $1,000 a year when the county assessment goes over $20 million. Local and private legislation passed last year continued his salary at its former level after it was cut when the $15 million mark was reached. However, that bill also expires this Dec. 31.

AT LEGION CONVENTION
E. J. Werling has been named Sons of the American Legion chairman for the Mississippi Legion's 47th annual convention opening Friday at Biloxi.

Representing Michael Baker at the meeting were Philip Koonce, Jack V. Williams, assistant division engineer, and Ralph L. Waser, assistant engineer.

The master plan envisions a $21.5 million port development in five areas of the county plus $9.3 million for a future system of surface water supplies.

Besides West Hancock which is figured at some 1,200 acres in a four-stage program costing $10,844,418; South Hancock in the vicinity of Anahy, calling for about 1,000 acres and costing $3,309,875 to develop Jordan River, basically for barge traffic, embracing 1,300 acres and estimated at $1,181,180; Bayou LaCrosse, 2,000 acres to the south of the Jordan complex

MISS ANN GOTTSCHALK

Bay girl reigns at rodeo

Ann Gottschalk, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Gottschalk of Carroll Avenue, reigned as queen of the Mississippi Deep Sea Fishing Rodeo in Gulfport last weekend.

Chosen by a panel of judges from 11 other princesses Thursday night at the Broadwater Beach Hotel, Miss Gottschalk, princess for Bay St. Louis, was crowned by Christine Harp of Gulfport, 1964 rodeo queen, and presented with an arm bouquet.

County tackles U.S. 90 4-laning

A movement to four-lane U. S. 90 from the Louisiana line to its intersection with old Rt. 43 was revived Monday by the board of supervisors in view of increasing traffic created by the nation's space program in the area.

On the motion of Beat 1 Supervisor H. G. Dean, the board asked for a meeting with Highway Commissioner John D. Smith and representatives of NASA's Mississippi Test Facility. It also will seek support from U.S. Senators James Eastland and John Stennis as well as Congressman William Colmer since it appears federal funds would be necessary for the work.

Sheriff Sylvan J. Lader, Jr., and State Highway Patrolman William Kenny who were at the session spoke on the need for prompt relief. Kenny said the section of 90 west of Rt. 43 is two feet narrower than the rest of the roadway and "in terrible shape." He observed that Michoud traffic will continue to use this road for more direct commuting even when Interstate 10 is opened.

Dean argued that 1-10 is still some five years in the future and something needs to be done now. The sheriff suggested that immediate resurfacing of the Old Spanish Trail from 43 east would be a big help since MTF traffic could be channeled over that, easing the bumper-to-bumper driving conditions in the late afternoon.

Supervisors also went on record calling for a local and private bill which would enable them to contribute $5,000 toward expansion of the highway patrol's District 8 headquarters at Gulfport. The request for help came from Kenny who noted the increased services now provided by the patrol in Hancock County. The board gave $5,000 to construction of the office 11 years ago. Highway

MTF tops '60 Bay census

It's official! For the first time the population count at Mississippi Test Facility topped the 1960 U.S. census figures for the city of Bay St. Louis.

Employment at the test site went over the 5,000 mark with 5,199 reported on board. The Bay's '60 census count was 5,020.

The breakdown at MTF shows NASA with 96 employees 86 of whom are permanent; General Electric with 1,280; GE sub-contractors 704; US Corps of Engineers 170; Corps land acquisition office, 7; Weather Bureau 8; Boeing Co. 47; North American Aviation, 399; and construction and installation workers 2,494.

We're Growing

Dr. James W. Armshaw, native of New Orleans who is a graduate of LSU medical school, arrived July 1 to join the Martinolich Clinic. He served his residency at Charity Hospital. Dr. Armshaw is residing at a Louisville Garden Apartments and expects his mother to join him here later.

For county teachers

Need more money

The school building program at Pearlington, Lakeshore and Hancock North Central should commence early in September, according to Walter J. Phillips, county school board attorney.

Addressing trustees on Tuesday, Phillips indicated no delays are expected and all projects contemplated under the recent $350,000 bond issue are lined up. Increased millage will be necessary in 1965-66 to pay teachers and hire additional instructors for all the planned. Edward P. Orrie, board president.

Pointing out that the school board is allowed additional millage under state law Orrie told members that Hancock North Central will be operating three first and three second grade rooms this fall. By keeping all the rooms occupied all the time Superintendent Chester H. Blalock has managed to construct a program that will house these students without requiring additional classrooms, said Orrie, more teachers will be needed.

A similar discussion in April led to a comparison of teachers salaries and how monies to cover such were obtained. Blalock presented a table showing teachers currently receive most of their income from the state and county funds simply supplement this amount. A teacher with an A certificate and six years experience receives $3,900 from state sources and administrator with an AA certificate $4,200, said Blalock.

Hancock County supplements these income figures to the extent of $100, the lowest in the area, explained Blalock.

Eye MTF for new space role

Construction at Mississippi Test Facility of a new multi-million dollar installation to modify the second stage of the Saturn V rocket is under consideration, Jackson M. Balch, site manager, told committee of the state legislature Tuesday.

Balch appeared before the Senate finance and House ways and means committees in opposition to a bill before the special session aimed at getting nearly $2 million in use taxes from contractors and fields at the $200 million site.

Another $400 million may be expended at the Hancock County site in the next five years, he said. This facility could logically be located at or near those existing in Alabama, California, Florida, Louisiana or Mississippi to "take advantage of growth potential at the MTF," he told the fiscal groups in a closed door session.

The other states provide exemptions for property and contractors on federal government contracts, Balch continued.

Call bids on 12-bed annex

Bids have been called for opening at 10 a.m. Aug. 3 on the 12-bed addition to Hancock General Hospital.

The date was approved by the board of supervisors Monday after hospital authorities were questioned closely as to availability of physicians and staff to man the expanded plant.

Joe K. Duckworth, president of the hospital's board of trustees, and Thomas O. Logie, administrator, appeared with the request, noting that $27,000 remained from the last bond issue for hospital construction and the federal government has matched this with $55,000. The 12-bed wing on the south of the original plant had been planned along with the 24-bed Pepperdine Hall just completed, but had to be deleted last year when bids ran in excess of available funds.

There were now five doctors in the Bay-Waveland area, Logie told the supervisors. In addition, Dr. James W. Armshaw arrived July 1 to join the Martinolich Clinic and Dr. Charles Cox, who has been doing further study for the last year.

is to return in September and open his own clinic, he said. There is a possibility of another doctor coming in late summer.

Some aspects of the personnel question still must be answered, the administrator continued, and the hospital will

For port development

Deep water is must

Without a deep water channel, Hancock County's waterway development will have no more to offer potential industry than thousands of other inland areas along the nation's inland waterway system.

That's what representatives of Michael Baker, Jr., Inc., consulting engineers, told the port and harbor committee last Wednesday night in presenting their preliminary master plan for industrial development of the county.

And because of the cost of dredging and maintaining such a channel, federal participation is essential, the Baker men said.

and a survey report authorized until.

The master plan is approved and adopted. Phase I (primary development of the West Hancock area along Malabar Bayou) is initiated and at least one industry located; a letter of intent is secured from a major industry that it will locate in the area if deep water is provided; funds are available to accomplish at least part of the deep water development in accordance with the master plan and there are funds and plans for a deep water public dock facility to be located on the project.

The committee, on the motion of Elliot Casanova, accepted the preliminary survey and directed Baker to put the master plan in final form for presentation to the board of supervisors along with suggestions for an airport to serve industry in the West Hancock area.

This in effect opens the way for a referendum on a $1 million bond issue to acquire some 500 acres of land, necessary rights of way for an access channel, road, rail spur and preliminary improvements. The $1 million figure is based on estimated $64,000 annual revenue necessary to amortize the issue.

Dr. A. K. Martinolich, Jr., commission president, said he has been in touch with International Paper Co., which owns the bulk of the proposed initial dock, and expects it will be ready to talk firmly on sale prices after its current strike is settled.

Representing Michael Baker at the meeting were Philip Koonce, Jack V. Williams, assistant division engineer, and Ralph L. Waser, assistant engineer.

The master plan envisions a $21.5 million port development in five areas of the county plus $9.3 million for a future system of surface water supplies.

Besides West Hancock which is figured at some 1,200 acres in a four-stage program costing $10,844,418; South Hancock in the vicinity of Anahy, calling for about 1,000 acres and costing $3,309,875 to develop Jordan River, basically for barge traffic, embracing 1,300 acres and estimated at $1,181,180; Bayou LaCrosse, 2,000 acres to the south of the Jordan complex and backing up on U.S. 90, $3,267,074; and North Hancock, 1,100 acres north of Interstate 10 in the Pontchartraine, $888,550.

But Koonce and his colleagues emphasized the need for more immediate concern with the deep water access needed for West Hancock and dealt with the matter in detail in presenting a : forward to the master plan. The proposed South Hancock harbor and industrial area would mean more land served by the channel, thus increasing its feasibility, they noted, but recommended no action there until deep water is assured.

Should deep water be impossible, Baker proposes the barge depth channel be located at the existing railroad bridge.

MRS. PURCELL BREWER

Miss Stiller is bride of Mr. Brewer

The marriage of Miss Linda Stiller to Purnell D. Brewer, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Martin of LaPlace, La., took place June 26 at First Baptist Church in Slidell.

The bride, who formerly lived at Logtown Manor, is the daughter of George Stiller and Mrs. Margie Rankin of Slidell. Miss Sherri Barnes of La-combe was maid of honor for her cousin and Miss Emily Henley of Slidell.

Best man was the groom's brother, Charles, who was home on leave from his post with the Air Force in Oklahoma. Larry Utrera of Guatemala was groomsman.

Following a reception at the bride's home the couple left for a honeymoon in Florida. A number of friends from this area attended the ceremony.

The holiday weekend was a blast, and we don't mean just the continuous bangs of fireworks, and for some reason, the past few years have been sort of blah, or maybe flat is a better description, as far as celebrating the glorious Fourth. It was not so on Independence Day 1965! We should have anticipated the activity as the Echo did quite a flourishing business in flags the week prior to the big day. . . but we weren't prepared for the gay crowds that began arriving early in the week and continued to be bursting with people and any one who hadn't rented a house weeks ago was out of luck.

City Hall inauguration

Inauguration of Bay City Fathers Johnny Scaife, Cyril Glover and Warren Traub turned out to be quite a festive occasion! Promptly at 10 a.m. Marie Quintini, attired becomingly in lemon yellow whipped cream colored dress administered the lemon oaths of office after Msgr. Hannon's invocation; Rev. Charles Johnson performed closing duties. Onlookers included wives of the officials, Alice Scaife, Margie Glover and Edith Traub; the entire personnel of city hall and visitors Nick Haas, Fred Wagner, Harry Benjamin, Bert Steffel, who generously provided the bubbly for celebrating, and several others. We had threatened to tell tales about who was too chicken to pop a simple champagne cork but fine we are chicken too when it comes to tattling on anyone who just might be in a position to make driving around the Bay somewhat uncomfortable!

From my notebook

May Lou and Genex Ferry appear to be intent upon living up to family tradition (Ferry family, of course) as they anticipate their first visit from the stork come January.

Things seem sort of lonesome during the absence of Helena, Bill, Susie and Paul Wood, who left on Saturday for Detroit, Mich., where they will visit Bill's mother, Mabel, and husband Oswald Husted, and his sister, Marjorie Brazelton. They will then proceed to Kaysers, W. Va. to spend a week with Helena's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Otis Borror. The Woods, among first MTF newcomers, have been here so long we now think of them almost as natives.

Merle (Mrs. Bert) Steffel had several sleepless nights after hearing of the bombing of Da Nang AFB in Viet Nam as her brother, Sgt. Earl Bennett, USMC, is stationed there.

We'll bid a reluctant farewell to Jim Taylor of the Corps of Engineers who left on Saturday for his new job at Tindall AFB in his home town of Panama City, Fla.

Rae (Mrs. Ray) Rasmussen left yesterday for a two week visit with Mrs. R. N. Garrett in Richmond, Va.

Main drag

Charlie Thomas has discovered the hazards of trying to be the good Samaritan! He volunteered to help Homer Gregory and Roland Tallac put up reserved parking signs behind Mississippi Power Company last Thursday. Discovering the need for a screw driver, Charlie went to "his" cream colored Volkswagen, inserted the trunk key and was a bit puzzled when nothing happened. Homer and Roland went to his aid and the trio was lustily tugging on the reluctant hood when Charlie noticed a coat hanging in the small car. Imagine his embarrassment when he discovered the vehicle had a Louisiana tag—and looked across the street remembering he'd parked around the corner! More than a little crimson faced, our boys beat a hasty retreat before the car's owner showed up!

We are truly sorry to learn that Dorothy and Ryn Steinmeyer have sold their lovely Nicholson Avenue home and will permanently reside in Metairie. They were over Saturday to sign the final act of sale papers and promised to return for frequent visits.

Frolics at the Legion

The Legion Fair was as always one of the larger attractions.

Just about everybody in town seemed to be giving the assorted booths lively play and just a few spotted include Mary Louise and John Stern, Mary Alice and Joe Benvenuti, Anna and Gilbert Gayan, Marian and Russell Elliott, Gerald Price, Edith and Warren Carver, Elsie and Bill Kenny, Evelyn and Lou Monti, Rose and John Ruthertford, Ruth and Fred Curet, "Cap" and Henry Capdepon. The fireworks display which always climaxes the fair was the most elaborate and loudest yet!

Bob Torgersen upset all who happened to be at the Yacht Club when he sailed in on an enormous wind borne vessel. Some seemed to think an invasion was imminent. The fact is, however, the craft belongs to son-in-law Lucky and wife Christy who brought it over from New Orleans with all intentions of spending Fathers' Day weekend with her parents. They left early Saturday p.m., but between auxiliary power failure and unfavorable winds arrived in Waveland totally exhausted shortly before dark on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. O. W. Delph returned home late Sunday after spending the weekend in Mobile, Ala.

Elizabeth Maurigi gets double greetings. . . she and husband Manuel observed their 32nd wedding anniversary on Friday and she's also due get well wishes as she entered Hancock General the following day for treatment of a kidney ailment.

Animal notes

We've a happy ending coming up to what began as a sad tale. Several weeks ago city police picked up a plump, beagle type female who promptly gave birth to six puppies on the following day. Normal procedure would have been to send them into the great beyond via carbon monoxide, but Police Chief Lathon Garriga came up with the brilliant idea of finding homes for the tiny canines by allowing them to be won in drawings at the annual American Legion fair scheduled to take place just at the time they become adoptable, on July 4.

Miss Vincent is to marry Mr. D. Dean

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Vincent of Houston, Tex., formerly of New Orleans, announce the engagement of their daughter, Judith Daniel, to David L. Dean of Houston, son of Mrs. Bryan Bailey Dean of Bay St. Louis, and the late Mr. Dean. The wedding will be at 11 a.m. Aug. 7 at St. Anne's Church in Houston.

Miss Daniel is an alumnus of the Academy of the Sacred Heart. She attended Barre College in Lake Forest, Ill., and was graduated from Loyola University of the South where she was a member of Phi Phi Phi sorority. During the 1960 Carnival season Miss Daniel was a maid in the courts of Olympians and Nereus.

Mr. Dean, whose mother is the former Miss Lillian Huff, was graduated from Louisiana State University at Baton Rouge, where he was a member of Sigma Alpha Epsilon fraternity. He is the grandson of Mrs. Joel Eldredge Dean of Bakersfield, Calif., and the late Mr. Dean, and the late Mr. and Mrs. Louis Huff.

IN VIET NAM - Sgt. Earl Bennett, USMC, stationed at Da Nang Base in Viet Nam, is the son of Mrs. Alden Bailey and Mr. Lawrence Bennett of Pearl-ington, and the brother of Mrs. Herbert L. Steffel of Bay St. Louis. Bennett and his wife, the former Dianne Givens, have five children.

Marchino is Rotary proxy for 1965-66

Homer Gregory and Joe Scharff were honored for long service during the Rotary Club's initiation of officers banquet last Wednesday.

Other honors fell to Mrs. J.A. Evans as wife of one of the club's founding members, the late Dr. Evans.

Thomas O. Logue, retiring president, introduced Dr. Robert H. Cook, Rotarian district governor, who installed Joe Marchino as president, Reuben F. Gray as vice president and Carl Smith as secretary.

Hon. Boyce Holleman, district attorney and guest speaker for the evening, was introduced by Dan M. Russell.

Miss Morgan, Mr. Graham exchange vows

Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Morgan of New Orleans announce the marriage of their daughter, Sharon, to G.W. Graham, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ira Johnson of Bay St. Louis.

Parents of the groom and the bride's mother witnessed the single ring ceremony performed by Justice of the Peace Nolan Ladner on June 23.

The couple will make their home in New Orleans where the groom is employed.

MARRIAGE BLESSED
Mr. and Mrs. Walter J. Cuevas, wed some weeks ago in a civil ceremony, had their marriage blessed at Our Lady of the Gulf June 19 rather than as reported in the Echo recently. Mrs. Cuevas is the former Esther Travira.

White gladioli, wedding bells, and streamers, decorated the friendly inn where a reception took place afterwards. The bride's table was centered with a three-tiered wedding cake. Mrs. Jimmy Ladner, the groom's sister-in-law, assisted the couple's parents in serving.

After a wedding trip to Fort Meyers, Fla., the couple will be at home in Ansley, Mr. Ladner, a graduate of Hancock North Central, is employed by the American Marine Shipbuilding Co. in Gentilly.

sin of the groom, and Brenda Ladner of Ansley, sister of the groom, were bridesmaids.

Miss Pamela Bourgeois, niece of the groom, was flower girl.

Attending the groom were his brothers, Jimmy Ladner of Ansley and Lonnie Ladner of Marero, La., and Lawrence Starita, Jr., of Bay St. Louis.

Milton Ladner, cousin of the groom, was usher.

Federal tax changes OK'd by sportsmen

Fish, Fur, and Feather, a publication issued by the Mississippi Game and Fish Commission, this month outlined the advantages to be gained by local sportsmen from the new Excise Tax Reduction of Congress. The new law, according to the publication, provides in part that the 20-percent excise tax on membership dues effective Jan. 1, 1966, is interesting to note, continues the article, that clubs with sufficient funds on hand to carry them through the year can save money by withholding assessments and dues until after that time.

The second point given editorial coverage is the section dealing with a federal tax on the sale of firearms, ammunition, fishing tackle and equipment. Revenue from these taxes which were not reduced is now to be returned directly to the states by the U.S. Treasury, according to total license sales and land area. Funds so derived will be utilized by the individual states to further fish and wildlife conservation programs.

High school students planning to enter university this fall should register with their local selective service board without delay, according to Col. James L. Davis, director of selective service for Mississippi. He further advised that upon enrolling in college students should furnish the registrar's office with their selective service number and request that SSS Form 109, or its equivalent, be sent to their local board. Two tie for top spot

Two Little League games, both won by one run margins, exploded in excitement on Monday as the standings of all four league leading squads changed in the final frames of play. Seven-Up's 5-4 victory over first place Merchant's Bank tied top spot, both teams showing a 5-3 record, and Riemann's 11-10 win over Industrial Enameling put both teams into a second place tie. Seven-Up, after being ahead 5-2 in the fifth, staved off a Merchant's second-half do-or-die rally by allowing only two runs to cross the plate. Gary Yarbrough with a fine hurling performance gave up only four hits. Pat Kenny, 2-3, Niel and Eddie Favre and Randy Williams, 1-3, were top Bottler hitters while the Merchant's four hits came from Larry Beuhler, Randy Skarta, Wayne Martin and Joe Paul. Riemann's long-ball hitter, and league leading home-run artist, Darrel Carlot, came through once again and blasted two four baggers during the same inning. David Worrel of Riemann's handled the mound duties giving up one base hit to Industrial's Tim Craig who smashed a triple.

We also have a report on a boxer, apparently lost in the Hillcrest, Terrace, Arlington area in Waveland. His vaccination tag bears the name of a Pennsylvania veterinarian.

Holiday news

The A.R. Cazaubon's of Waveland had a most enjoyable 4th of July with raising of the flag on the new pole in the yard of their St. Joseph Street home. Guests included Mr. and Mrs. Steve Giergich of New Orleans, Mr. and Mrs. John Storz of Biloxi and Rose and John Garza, the Clarence Batsys, the Leonard Rings and children Darlene, Geraldyn, Andrea and Lenny.

Ralph Fleming and his brother Charles of Gulfport entered the Deep Sea Fishing Rodeo, spent Saturday night at Chandelure, came back with a boat load of edible fish, but no prize winners.

Pat Bordages and best beau Ron Jones left on June 18, for Delaware, Ohio, where they were guests of Ron's parents Mr. and Mrs. Harry Jones. They returned home on June 27.

Leona and Eddie Marquez had as holiday guests a whole passel of Leona's relatives including sisters, Joyce McMahon and husband Raymond; Annette Shaver and Mary Ledet and husband W. A.; cousins, Sammy and Robert Shaver, David Cook, Cindy and Harold Kelly, Rose Buffington and John Holiday.

Get well wishes are on the way to Mrs. C.J. Parker (she's Miss Edwina Osbourne's sister) who is undergoing tests in Gulfport Memorial.

Mrs. Dick Kolstad was given a pass from the same hospital Saturday to attend her daughter Luey's wedding, then released and allowed to return home the following day.

Nell Frisbe and Dawn Ruhr are among local Sears employees presently working like mad to win a Holiday in Memphis, an all paid vacation which goes to those Sears salesmen who have the largest sales volume during the contest.

Softball classic

Upcoming at 2 p.m. Sunday, July 18, will be one of the more interesting softball games we can imagine. Travis Lounge team has been challenged by a group to be called the Old Pros. The Pros is player-manager; Billy Soldine, publicity chairman and catcher; others include Melvin Ladoer, Junior Favre, Sidney and Junior George, Leroy Bourgeois, Charlie Cerver, Bobby Strong, Roland LaFontaine, Wesley Haas and Linzer Moran. Elwood Bourgeois Memorial Park diamond is to be the scene of the fray and upon learning that the winning team will be awarded a leg we're putting our money on the old timers!

More congratulations go to Vern Shaw as he and Adele (nee Parks) tied the knot last Saturday night and are now happily settled in their Nicholson Avenue home. Eddie Marquez is the only one who doesn't seem too happy about the wedding. He just can't understand why his former nightly floundering partners have lost the fishing urge.

SIGHTS AND SOUNDS ALONG THE WAY - A large orange bus loaded with nuns smiling in happy anticipation of their holiday; boys in Indian type costumes paddling furiously and making absolutely no headway against choppy waves; lush green lawns freckled by radiant rays made insignificantly dim by the sun; the number of times the sun has been seen; the number of times the sun has been seen; the number of times the sun has been seen.
